

Connections with the Spirit World

It took author Richard Gene, Ph.D., nearly thirty years of contemplation and research to construct and record his comprehensive model of the Spirit World. Unlike many other books on spirituality that limit their descriptions or definitions, Genes model as outlined in Connections with the Spirit World, is non-judgmental and inclusive. He maintains that humans cannot formulate complete models and that there are no incorrect models, only incomplete ones. We ought not declare models incorrect simply because they dont work for us-they work for somebody, and that is why they exist! Genes model correlates with all the common, everyday happenings and feels like a natural part of life-as a spiritual model should feel. It explains why we sleep, why dreams tend to be surrealistic, how our body knows how to heal, how our instincts and intuition work, how we have a natural partnership with our creator and why we need to make it mutually beneficial for our creator and ourselves. His model explains how we receive spiritual guidance every moment of every day-guidance that is consistently gentle, caring, nonjudgmental, undemanding, and comfortable. Connections with the Spirit World offers a refreshing new perspective that will help you grow spiritually.
