

The Social Calendar 2015-2016: A 16-Month Golden Choice of Quotations with Meme Creation Tips

The Social Calendar is an illustrated daily e-calendar with a difference: along with the days of the week, dates and holidays, it offers three or four (occasionally more) quotes every day every day for the next 16 months. Well over 1600 unique shining specimens have been selected. Here you will find more Heinlein than Hesse. More Barry than Baudelaire (but both are there). More Rand than Rousseau or Rowling, but plenty from all three. The Marx is Groucho, Roth is usually Veronica, rather than Philip. We have Albert Einstein on taxes, Steve Jobs on pirates, Aristotle, Nietzsche and Turing weigh in on mathematics. Hemingway holds forth on writing comedy; Berra offers observations akin to Zen Koans. Tepper, Tesla and Trout teach us. And 680 other writers, speakers, and philosophers bring their thoughts to bear on topics as wide-ranging as the human experience can expose. Includes a step-by-step illustration of how to build quote-memes for your own favorite quotes whether you find them in these pages or not and share them online. Richly indexed to guide you to further reading. NEW EDITION PLUSES: * Now 16 months: September 1, 2015 through December 31, 2016 * Dozens of new authors * Build a meme without using online generators
