

The Diva Dating Manual

Amongst the text messages, emails, and websites, the line of ladylike behavior has been blurred in Christian dating. The Diva Dating Manual addresses dating faux pas that are rampant in today's Christian social scene. This book is attractive to most women ages 15-35 that are completely immersed in today's culture of reality television, unlimited texting plans, and emphasis on being independent. They have been told in essence that there is a shortage of men in America, and to find him via the internet before it is too late. In their search for a suitable mate, they forget the basics, as well as sabotage themselves within relationships by listening to secular America and need to know what they are doing wrong. The Diva Dating Manual can be used as a devotional, class discussion or simply reference for young women intent on pleasing God through their dating life.
