

Sherlock Holmes: The Golden Age of Radio

The story of the world's most famous detective came to radio October 20, 1930, as a Monday-night NBC thriller for George Washington Coffee. Holmes had the distinction of being the most revived major character of the airwaves. These recordings were produced by NBC in 1955 for the BBC in London. Stories include The Mystery of the Second Stain, The Traitor, Rare Disease, and The Final Problem. September publication date. 2 cassettes. .
